On TUESDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS,

At Mr. HAWES's, in MARKET-SQUARE,

BY THE CELEBRATED SHAGHNUSSY, & Co.

WILL BE EXHIBITED,

The following MEDLEY of

SURPRISING PERFORMANCES,

To greater ADMIRATION

Than ever hitherto attempted in this Part of the World.

FIRST, he commences with a Prologue adapted to the Performance.---Secondly, he ſeems to cauſe a moſt wonderful and ſurpriſing Production of Fruit, with other Exhibitions, to appear upon a Table, in the Space of five Moments, appearing as natural as if they had grown upon the Trees.---Thirdly, he devours ſeveral Combuſtibles, in a Blaze, with as much Eaſe as Ladies drink Tea.---Fourthly, he drinks a Quantity of Liquor, to drive it down, which again he produces, in Streams, from ſeveral Parts of his Body, to Admiration. He then proceeds to his ſurpriſing Performance with curious Eggs, Money, and Cards, particularly cauſing the Cards to ſtick to the Ceiling of the Room, or other convenient Parts, and makes every Card that is called for by the Spectators fly down at the Word of Command. He cauſes them to riſe from the Table as though they were alive, and makes them jump and fly about like ſo many living Birds. He changes the Colour of Cards from red to black, or black to red, to the Admiration of the Beholders. He likewiſe in his Performance repreſents, to ſuch as require it, the Shape and Form of the Perſon allotted for their Spark or Miſtreſs; and diſcovers the Lady who ſhall happen to be firſt married in the Company. There will be added, by Means of a Magic Lanthorn, ſeveral curious moving Machines, repreſenting Ladies and Gentlemen dancing Paſbies and Country Dances; and a Piece of moving Machinery, repreſenting their Majeſties King GEORGE, Queen CHARLOTTE, and ALL the ROYAL FAMILY. Alſo a famous Italian moving Landſcape, repreſenting One Hundred Figures, each near ſix Feet high, and the Army going thro' their Exerciſe by the Word of Command; with the Humours of Dr. FAUSTUS, and ſeveral other diverting Subjects too tedious to enumerate. An Addreſs to Every Body, not aimed at Any Body, will then be humourouſly performed by Mr. SHAGHNUSSY, in the Character of No Body.

Between the ſeveral Acts of the above Performance, will be introduced the following DANCES, by Mr. GODWIN, viz. A Hornpipe---A Comic Dance, called the Pitchfork---The drunken Peaſant; Peaſant, Mr. GODWIN.---Clown, Incident to the Dances, by Mr. DAWSON.

MUSIC in the Intervals, viz. Violin, by Mr. HYATT---German Flute, by Mr. LAUNCE. The Whole to conclude with an Epilogue.

† Mr. SHAGHNUSSY, far from preſuming to aſſert to the Public that the wonderful Things by him performed are real Miracles, frankly acknowledges that they are only ingeniouſly and deceptively executed; and the Conſulters of Nature, or Sons of Reaſon, he is well aſſured, expect no other. He, however, engages that every Part ſhall be performed with the greateſt Nicety, and according to his Merits hopes for Encouragement from every

BOSTON, November 11.

A Gentleman from Connecticut informs, that the General Assembly of that colony, in their last session, upon the petition of the corporation of Yale College, voted between two and three hundred pounds lawful money, to discharge the debts of that society. And that the Assembly had also voted to found a professorship of natural and experimental philosophy at the expence of the government.

The 10th instant, a person at New-Castle, who had been totally blind for many years, had one of his eyes couched by Doctor Hall Jackson, which has restored him to sight; he can see as well as persons generally do with one eye. This operation is to be performed on the other eye soon, when a more particular account may be given.

November 19. Captain Hall sailed from an out port in England first October: The press for seamen was then as hot as perhaps ever known---several vessels for this port sailed before him---Captains Read and Langdon belonging to Portsmouth, arrived here since Captain Hall---a gentleman who came passenger in Captain Hall, informs, that the Spanish ambassador had packed up his baggage, quitted his house, and was hourly expected to leave England---the Russians are carrying all before them with fire and sword; they have burnt the whole Turkish fleet at Scio, consisting of 15 sail of line of battle ships, from 64 to 90 guns, besides 4 frigates, 8 armed ships, from 30 to 40 guns, 8 galleys, row-boats, &c. -----The Russian and Turkish Admiral's ships were both blown up; the Russian Admiral after having his rigging shot away, boarded the Turks sword in hand, who soon catched on fire, and before he could disengage himself both ships were blown up, which made a most terrible sight. On the land side, they have taken many places of consequence, have laid siege to Bender, and 'twas thought would soon reach Constantinople.----

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in London, dated September 25.

"Our attention at present is taken up with regard to the naval preparations for war. Thirty-eight ships of the line are already put into commission, and a declaration of war with France and Spain is expected before this reaches your hands.---Captain Hall has been obliged to have a protection for his men, and the Lords of the Admiralty upon application this day made to them, have promised to protect the ships homeward bound from North-America------you will perceive that the Spaniards are the first aggressors, by taking Falkland's Island, and in conjunction with the French it is supposed they intend to destroy the Russian fleet that we are bound to protect.

November 26. Yesterday morning sailed the Captains Scott and Calef for London---in the first went passengers the Hon. John Temple, Esq; Mr. Thomas Lee, Mrs. Jane Eustis, and Mr. Gibbs and Lady.---In Captain Calef, Henry Bromfield, Esq; and son, Mr. Isaac Smith, jun. and Mr. William Gale.

NEWPORT, (Rhode-Island) November 26.

Thursday night we had a considerable rain; next day the air being very thick, the weather was so warm as to cause the Mercury in the Thermometer to ascend to near 65.

One day last week a vessel arrived at Bedford in Dartmouth, in 30 days from England, and it was reported on Saturday that she brought certain intelligence that war was proclaimed between Great-Britain and Spain; but not having received a confirmation of this report, we believe it to be premature.

There are several accounts in the western papers of the plague being in Hispaniola.---A vessel lately arrived at New-York, from said island, was performing quarantine on that account when the last papers came away.

NEW-LONDON, (Connecticut) November 2.

The memorial of the Susquehannah company, lying before the General Assembly of this colony, was this week heard by them, and the consideration thereof referred to next May.

NEW-YORK, November 11.

Yesterday morning arrived the Sloop Centra Gage, Captain [illegible], who providentially was the means of preserving the lives of 4 men whom he took from a wreck at sea, and brought in with him, viz. Captain John Tucker, his mate, and 2 negro men, late belonging to the Schooner Mary from New-Providence, Mr. Thomas Dunscomb, owner. This schooner, loaded with lumber, pork, butter, and provisions, on the 17th of October, sailed from Norfolk in Virginia, bound for New-Providence, and next day, Thursday the 18th met with a severe gale of wind, which continued till Saturday the 20th at noon, and then abated; the day before which, as the schooner was scudding before it, she broached too, the foremast was carried away and the vessel overset. The people 5 in number, 2 white men and 3 blacks, remained on her side from Friday till Sunday the 22d, when the weather being moderate, by the means of the two anchors and a purchase fixt to the stump of the foremast, they righted the vessel, and making fast a spare to the bowsprit, the only part remaining above water, they continued there 5 days longer, till Thursday the 26th, having nothing to eat but part of a keg of butter, nor any thing to drink but what they sucked from a sail when it rained. When this misfortune happened they were in about lat. 37, 30, long. 74, 11, and notwithstanding their being almost famished, and so long in such a dismal situation, hope never forsook them, and they were tolerably composed and chearful, though several vessels passed them, some so near that they must needs have seen them, and yet inhumanly left them to perish. At last, Thursday the 26th, the signal they made with their sail was seen at about five miles distance by Captain Turel, who bore down to them, took them all on board extremely weak and almost spent, and treated them with the greatest care and kindness, whereby they all recovered, except a negro belonging to Mr. Duychink, of Coracoa, who the night after they were taken on board, privately got to a water cask, where drinking it is supposed, too freely, he grew seemingly distracted, and died the 3d day after. Nothing could be got out of the schooner, which lay wholly under water.

November 15. On Saturday, from Philadelphia, came to town Captain William Bedlow, lately from Jamaica, which he left the 1st of October, and reports, that on the 28th of September a vessel arrived there from Hispaniola, which brought advice that a plague was broke out there, at Leoganne, Port-au-Prince, and other places in the bite. That the disorder was not brought from any infected place, but supposed to originate there, and to be occasioned by an unwholsome effluvia from the frequent eruptions and earthquakes, with which that place has been visited for some months past, and continued almost every day since. That soon after the people are taken, a boil rises under the arm, and they generally die in 18 hours.----That the General had retired from Port-au-Prince to the Platform, and that the French on the south side of the island, had posted troops to guard the passes and prevent communication with infected places.

On the above intelligence, depositions were taken before the County Lieutenant in Jamaica, and orders given to admit no vessel without examination, or quarantine. We hear there are orders for the like precaution in this place.---Captain Bedlow's deposition having been taken before the Mayor on Sunday last; and on Monday, Captain John Baptiste Kan, in the sloop ------, having arrived from ----------, in Hispaniola, was not admitted into the harbour, but is now performing quarantine at Bedlow's Island, in the bay before the town.

PHILADELPHIA, November 8.

Saturday last Captain William Grinnell, in the sloop Tom, arrived here from Newport, Rhode-Island, which port he left on the 18th ult. The next day, in lat. 38, 30, long. 72, 30, he met with a violent gale of wind, from the E. N. E. to N. which split his mainsail and foresail, and obliged him to lay a hull till 8 o'clock the next evening, when the gale abated. On the 22d he saw a vessel at 3 or 4 leagues distance, which judging to be a wreck, he tacked about, and stood for her, and found her to be the Brigantine Bumper, Joseph Stringham, Master, from Teneriffe, (five weeks out) bound to New-York; who overset the day before, and lost both of his masts, bowsprit, and all his sails and rigging, shifted his ballast, damaged the cargo, and, when she righted, had four feet water in her hold, which was continually increasing in spite of the utmost efforts of the people. The Captain and three of the hands were washed overboard, but happily got in again. In this truly deplorable situation, unable to make any sail, and being short of provisions, Captain Grinnell sent his boat on board, in order to relieve the people, some of whom, on going aboard Captain Grinnell, refused to return to the wreck, there being no hopes of getting her to port, and not the least prospect of saving their lives if Captain Grinnell should be obliged to leave them. Captain Stringham was unwilling to leave the wreck, and prevailed on Captain Grinnell to take her in tow, in hopes the wind would favour them. This he attempted to do; but the weather being squally, a large sea running, and night approaching, rendered his endeavours fruitless at that time; and before the next morning another gale came on, which obliged him to make the best shift he could for the preservation of his own vessel. As soon, however, as the gale abated, so as to permit him to make sail, he shaped his course for the wreck, making the proper allowance for her drifting, and happily found her on the 23d, after a separation of 36 hours. He then took her in tow, and with much difficulty and danger to himself, has brought her and people safe into this port.---The exertions of Captain Grinnell, on this occasion, to save the lives of their fellow-creatures, who must inevitably have been lost, as well as the vessel and cargo, deserves the highest applause, and will ever distinguish him as a gentleman of humanity, fortitude and perseverance in a day of trial.

On Thursday evening last departed this life, aged sixteen years, Miss DEBBY HALL, the only daughter of Mr. DAVID HALL, of this city, printer. She was a young lady whose amiable disposition and prudent behavior deservedly rendered her dear to all her friends and acquaintance. Her remains, attended by a vast concourse of respectable inhabitants, were deposited, on Sunday evening, in Christ-Church Burying-Ground.

November 15. Friday last arrived here, the ship Hope, Captain John Robinson, from the Bay of Honduras, which he left the 25th of September, by whom we learn, that a number of Spaniards having been detected in enticing the negroes to run away, were seized by way of reprizal, and put to work on board an English vessel.

November 19. They write from Liverpool, that the demand for check linen from New-York, &c. was so great there, that the merchants have been obliged to buy single pieces in little retail shops.
